PEAK PERFORMANCE

Who doesn't love a Mont Blanc fountain pen? We love ours so much we'd take it to bed with us if we could. And now those clever clogs at Mont Blanc have designed an entire collection of watches to celebrate 90 years of their iconic Meisterstück pen.

PAST TELEGRAM TIME

CARTIER OPENED ON NEW BOND STREET 105 YEARS AGO. THAT'S MORE THAN A CENTURY OF PEDDLING FABULOUS WARES AT THE HEART OF THE WORLD'S JEWELLERY MECCA. WE DO APPLAUD CONSISTENCY.

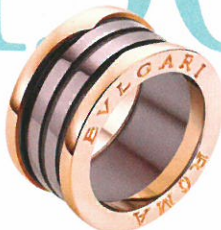

110

SILVER FOX

THE JEWELLER TO THE QUEEN OF DENMARK, GEORG JENSEN, IS TURNING 110 THIS YEAR. THAT'S WHAT WE CALL A GREAT DANE.

130

MOLTO BENE

Our favourite Romans are celebrating a momentous 130 years in business. Bulgari, tamer of serpents and lover of jewels that look like boiled sweets, first opened its doors in 1884 and, thankfully, is still enchanting us today.

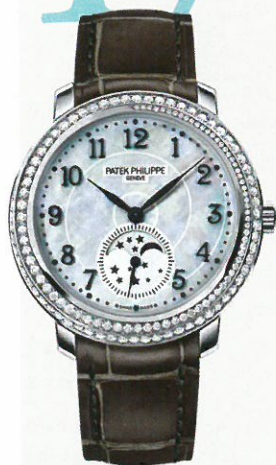

140

SLIM FIT

Master of super-duper slender watches and some jolly beautiful jewellery too, Piaget is 140 this year. Three cheers!

175

BIG TICK

Patek Philippe doesn't give discounts. Just ask the Queen, who bought herself one at full whack, or so we heard. The undisputed kings of the watch world are celebrating a fabulous 175 years.

200

ICE, ICE, BABY

The oldest diamond dealer in the world, Backes & Strauss, is celebrating 200 years of making – you guessed it – diamond-set watches. For pure perfection you need look no further – they've got it covered.

HEART OF GLASS

A QUARTER OF A MILLENNIUM IS NOTHING TO BE SNIFFED AT. THAT'S WHY THE GURUS OF ALL THINGS GLASS, BACCARAT, ARE UNDERSTANDABLY CHIPPER AT REACHING SUCH A MILESTONE. *POPS CHAMPAGNE CORK*
